

This passage is about bullfight^{ing} which is a national sport of Spain during which matadors contest with bulls. It is also^{very} popular sport in regions such as France, Morocco and some Latin American countries. However, many people consider bull flight^{ing} as a cruel game and ~~it~~^{think} should be banned. As a result, most ~~of~~ bullfights have disappeared and only a few^{are} left as a kind of tradition to attract fans around the world. I am one of those who support ~~to~~^{us} keep this game as long as safety measures are taken for both matadors and audience for several reasons. First, it is a popular game as so many people are crazy about it. The bullfight is also a time of social gathering for people from different places and a time to enjoy local culture. Next, as a traditional event, it facilitates local economy for tourists bringing a lot of business to hotels and restaurants and shops. Furthermore, there is a lot of entertainment ~~of~~ⁱⁿ a bullfight. During the game, matadors dressed in splendid customs are well trained and their performances are so impressive and realistic that no action~~s~~ movies can match~~ed~~^{ed}. In addition, ~~as~~^{with} the passing of time, bullfight also be^{to} modified. To cater ~~for~~^{to} changing tastes of audience, its cruel elements ~~has~~^{we been} reduced, and it has ~~is~~^{is} gradually transformed to a healthy sport which ~~are~~^{is} more accepted by general public.
