This passage is about parking. Nowadays, more and more people have their own cars; therefore, finding a parking space is becoming more and more difficult. Sometimes, people find unknown cars parked in front of their gates or their private parking areas.

This is very irritated^{ing} for people after a long day work back home, and ~~they~~^{ing} find their parking space has been occupied. The most common way to prevent it is to put a no-parking sign as a warning.

If it does not work, a towing company is often called to remove those cars away. Jasper White in this passage tried to use a different method, superstition as a warning sign. He put an ugly stone head over his gate. It is true that many people believe superstitions, such as 13 is ~~a sign of~~^{being} unlucky number and walking under a ladder will bring bad luck as well. Some people even consider open^{ing} an umbrella in the home to be bad. However, Jasper White's method did^{not} work as not everyone believes^{ed} in the superstition of an ugly stone head; thus, this is clearly not an effective way to fix his problem.
