This passage is about an experience of using English as a tourist in ^a foreign country. English is the most common language in the world. Several countries use it as their first language and many as their second language. Moreover, due to the widespread use of English in international business, travel industry, and ^{the} fast ^{growing} of ^{the} internet, more and more people learn it as a foreign language. As there not ^{are} so many people ^{who} have the chance to learn ~~it in~~ ⁱⁿ English ^{English-speaking} speaking countries, people have to spend extra time to learn ^{it} in Non-English environment.⁵

~~However~~ ^{Despite} now we have better access to English resources by using technology; ^{there} ~~it~~ is still a high goal to reach ^{with} the level ~~even~~ close ~~to~~ to native speakers. To meet the practical needs, the key focus of learning should be put on the ability to communicate, especially free exchange of ideas. To avoid misunderstanding, the next step of learning should focus on reducing common errors.

Another obstacle ^{if} ~~in~~ communication in English is the way of thinking and ~~learning~~ ^{this} ~~it~~ is ~~even~~ hard to learn. As we only spend small fractions of ~~our~~ ^{their} time in using English in ~~our~~ ^{their} daily work and life, to practice English as much as possible is still a ^{way} key to master it.
