

→ solution
response

2019-10-17

Sarah

This passage is about shoplifters. Nowadays, the temptation of stealing in large stores is higher because there are few people monitoring shoppers

the fact that directly. Despite there are some cameras around shop, it is much easier to a lot of in avoid catching than it once was. Stories of thieves being caught are often being caught appearing in newspapers, and some of them are even very rich people. To get something for nothing is a human nature. People like things free such as food, tickets etc. However, one should never cross the red line of law.

and coupons Stealing as a hobby will certainly lead people to jail. Moreover, one should learn to resist this kind of sudden desire to get something for nothing sooner because so or later you will be in a big trouble. Children should be taught moral standards to distinguish between good from bad, and one should never a or a good from bad commit crime. On the other hand, to promote sustainable shopping, shop

In addition,
owners should also take preventive measures to reduce the temptation of lower possible stealing as soon as people enter the shops, for this is good for individuals as well as society.

for example
success
approach

reduce
shop-lifting